THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE
JULIE FULLMER

Dear Vineyard Residents,

July, our seventh month of Discover Your Home! Thank you to everyone who joined us for Vineyard's Independence Day Celebration, marking a poignant reminder of the sacrifices made for our freedoms. It was a night of reflection and community spirit, celebrating the values that unite us all. I am so grateful for our beautiful city in this great country and to those who protect it still today. As we move forward into July, I encourage each of you to engage actively with our community initiatives and shape the culture, policies, and initiatives that will define our City's future.

UVU, one of our largest landowners, is seeking your input as they shape their campus in Vineyard, a pivotal opportunity to influence our city's future. Your participation in surveys and community activities directly shapes our culture and policies. Share your voice and help us grow in ways that enhance our community's strengths and improve upon what we cherish. Take the survey here.

Additionally, our City Council is discussing a potential Form of Government Change, with the first public hearing scheduled for July 10th, as noticed on June 26th. This is your chance to share your thoughts and contribute to the direction of our city's governance. Come and share your thoughts.

We recently finalized Vineyard's budget for 2025, focusing on conservative spending to support essential services while managing economic challenges. Vineyard has managed its budget with conservative spending, historically spending less per resident than other cities of comparable size. This includes investments in public safety with a new fire station and team and expanded police services, alongside vital projects like transportation funding, a cemetery, and safety master plan. The council met together six times before the public and more frequently in smaller groups to determine a working budget for the year 2025. Vineyard was awarded several large grants and will be cleaning up and beautifying the shoreline. The budget is posted and available for the public.

Property tax considerations are also on the agenda. Experts have advised the council on the complexities of Utah's tax system, highlighting the need for Vineyard to do more to address inflation and buying power reductions than cut spending and diversify its tax base.
On August 14th, residents can engage directly with their representatives to discuss potential adjustments, ensuring our tax rates align with community needs. The discussion will be whether or not to restore the 2019 rate. Learn more here.

Your involvement is crucial. Stay informed about these discussions and opportunities, learn for yourself to make informed decisions that contribute to our shared prosperity. Your feedback will directly influence our future initiatives and policies. For those impacted by tax concerns, explore state programs for relief here.

Lastly, stay tuned for the upcoming launch of Vineyard's new app! Text 435-228-5083 to participate in the launch and provide valuable feedback. Thank you for being active participants in our community's journey, shaping a vibrant future for Vineyard.

Best,
Mayor Fullmer

Child Safety

Summer is here and the temperatures have been above average so far. Please make sure to keep your children out of hot vehicles. According to the NHTSA, 53% of hot car deaths are the result of someone forgetting a child in the vehicle. Get in the habit of checking the back seat before locking the doors.

Keep your car locked. Deaths don't just happen when a child is forgotten. Unlocked doors give children access to the car where they could get trapped inside.

Never leave a child alone in a parked car, parking in the shade won't help and temperatures can rise quickly even when the windows are rolled down a little. If you see a child alone in a car, ensure they're OK. If they're OK, try to find the parents. If the child is not responsive, call 911. If it's an emergency, call 911.

Not all prescription drugs are the same. Opioids, stimulants, and sedatives can come with risks and be highly addictive. Prescription drugs should always be used carefully. Before starting a new prescription, talk to your healthcare provider about drug interactions, the risk of dependence, addictions, and if there are safe and effective alternatives that come with fewer risks and side effects.

What age do I talk to my kids about drugs?

The short answer is NOW. It's never too early to start talking to kids about their brain and their body. The human brain is still developing until age 25. Teach your kids that they need to put good, healthy things in their bodies to help their brain to develop the best. When you take medication you don't need or drink alcohol, it damages the structure of the brain. Which makes it harder to learn new things, play sports well, or make good decisions. Cater the conversation to the age and maturity of your kid, but starting these conversations earlier leads to better outcomes.
