A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

One Kind Act a Day Founder, Khorsow Semnani; Curtis Bennett, their Executive Director; and Utah's First Lady, Abby Cox, visited Vineyard and spoke about the profound impact of kindness in a community. They certified our city's efforts and congratulated Vineyard on the progress made to grow together and lift each other as neighbors first.

Vineyard has a long-standing culture of kindness and sharing, and we continue to launch initiatives to promote kindness as a way of life.

Amplifying kindness in a community serves as the catalyst for safe communities, fosters bonds of unity, and nurtures the growth of small businesses. It is the bedrock for leadership in a well-educated society and a formidable barrier against homelessness. It is a free act that preserves individual freedoms and develops good policy. Moreover, kindness yields tangible health benefits and empowers individuals to lead fulfilling lives.

The city has passed a resolution supporting One Kind Act a Day. Our Youth Council and Communities That Care organization have been leading out in One Kind Act a Day and encourage our residents to continue to embrace this opportunity and weave kindness into the fabric of our city so that the cultivation of a culture of kindness permeates every aspect of our community.

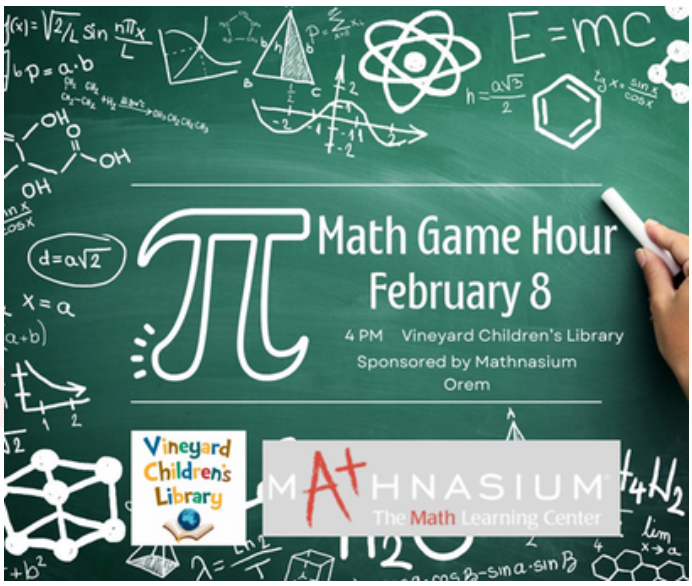

Please share your stories with us so we can spread kindness!

PUBLIC WORKS

2023 is Over and Public Works has had a big year!

Vineyard City achieved a significant milestone by expanding its roadway connectivity and adding new roads and extensions to its existing network. This strategic UDOT and Vineyard City effort, coupled with the maintenance and extension of sidewalks and recreational trails, reflects a commitment to enhancing vehicular and pedestrian infrastructure. The FrontRunner Station, a key element of the city's transportation network, has been seamlessly integrated, contributing to a more efficient transit system. Opening the 1600 North Road connection from Lindon Marina to Geneva Road provides residents with direct access to Vineyard City from the 1600 North corridor, further enhancing accessibility and connectivity. Vineyard City's forward-thinking urban planning is evident in this comprehensive approach, laying the foundation for sustainable growth, improved accessibility, and an enhanced quality of life for its residents. This milestone represents a pivotal moment in the city's development, fostering a more connected and vibrant community.

The newly constructed 6 million Gallons Water Storage Tank in Vineyard City is vital to the enhanced water infrastructure and doubles as the canvas for the city's heritage mural. Integrating functionality with artistry, the tank becomes a unique landmark housing representing Vineyard's rich heritage and cultural identity. This innovative approach seamlessly blends utility and aesthetics, contributing to the city's distinctive character.

Vineyard City prioritized environmental enhancement and resident well-being through various initiatives. This includes planting 97 trees in key locations, conducting pruning and removal of hazardous trees for public safety, and collaborating with local entities to address invasive species. The city partnered with UVU to establish the Sunset Park Botany walk, fostering education and showcasing Vineyard's natural beauty. These efforts underscore Vineyard City's commitment to a greener and more vibrant community.

Vineyard City prioritized safety by installing 150 stop signs, constructing a 1/2-mile road with a trail, painting school crosswalks with a highlighting color, and reviewing safety along school routes. These measures minimize delays, reduce accidents, and enhance pedestrian safety. These proactive steps underscore Vineyard City's commitment to a safer transportation environment, in line with state and federal safety initiatives.

SERVICE PROJECT

When a few ancient trees in Gammon Park were taken down recently, for safety concerns, Mayor Fullmer reached out and helped city staff organize a service project. The old trees were bucked and delivered from the city, to Chief Executive Mary Meyer of the Timpanogos Nation. City staff were honored to have a chance to hear Chief Meyer's relay a few stories of past generations of her people, while visiting with her while dropping off the much appreciated firewood.
