A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

We are in month three of "Discover Your Home," with some Survey Results discussing City Goals. The new city website is live, and the updates are aimed at fostering community engagement and connection.

A recent survey was conducted among residents to identify key goals and priorities, which will guide the city council in setting objectives for the year ahead. The survey results have provided valuable insights into the top priorities of residents, enabling the city council and staff to better inform, prioritize, and plan for the future.

Here are the top five priorities that emerged from the community survey in Question 1 (See some results for question one here):

1. Implementing Proactive Parking Measures: Addressing the diverse parking needs of residents to ensure efficient parking solutions.

2. Preserving and Enhancing Public Spaces: Contributing to the vibrancy of city life and supporting environmental initiatives through the enhancement of public spaces.

3. Developing Amenities and Boosting City Revenue: Diversifying the tax base, attracting talent, and generating revenue by developing amenities that benefit the community.

4. Redeveloping Impacted Land: Restoring native foliage, mitigating invasive species, and enhancing infrastructure on impacted land to promote sustainable development.

5. Improving City Transportation Network: Enhancing the transportation network, diversifying transit modes, and managing airspace to improve overall connectivity and efficiency.

Additionally, the survey highlighted the importance of enhancing safety throughout the city, emphasizing the community's commitment to creating a secure environment for all residents. In an effort to further discover these goals with the community, a series of Facebook Live sessions will be conducted to discuss these priorities in detail. On these Facebook lives, we will discuss the current parking study that is underway, the open space master plan, the city's economic development strategy, and our recent transportation plan.

A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

The city is dedicated to improving in each of these areas to keep Vineyard moving forward and enhance our quality of life. As we move forward with implementing these goals, the collective efforts of residents, city council, and stakeholders will play a crucial role in shaping a vibrant and sustainable future for our community. Together, we can work towards building a city that fulfills the needs and aspirations of our growing community.

A well-being survey conducted by Utah State University is now available to the public. This is the 3rd year our city has participated in this survey.

"The Utah Wellbeing Survey tracks local perspectives on wellbeing around the state from rural places to larger and rapidly growing cities. Partnerships with Utah cities make it possible to conduct annual online surveys. Over 14,000 surveys from Utahns were collected in 2019-2021, and over 11,000 surveys were collected in 2022 and 2023 across 35 cities. The next survey effort will be in 2024. If you are interested in having your city participate, please contact us. Utah communities are changing rapidly. Keeping a finger on the pulse of residents' well-being and attitudes about community issues helps to promote sound planning and decision-making to support the overall quality of life in Utah's cities and towns. "

This is the second survey that will be conducted this year. Here you can learn more about what is being discovered through this survey: https://www.usu.edu/utah-wellbeing-project/key-findings/

A final survey will go out this year to narrow in on the goals and direction of our community! Stay tuned in as we report on the results, the plans being implemented, and future opportunities.

PUBLIC WORKS

Exciting news! Our Public Works Utilities team has just finished lining three sewer manholes as part of our maintenance routine. These manholes were dealing with some extra wear and tear from sewer gases and groundwater, causing problems like increased costs for pumping and treatment. But don't worry, we've got it sorted!

Besides giving these manholes a makeover, we also fixed some leaks, letting 20-30 gallons of stuff per minute seep in. That's a lot! Now, no more leaks, and everything's back in order. Why do we care so much? We're dedicated to keeping our sewer system top-notch for you. This system does the heavy lifting, taking wastewater from homes and businesses to sewer treatment plants. It's all part of the big picture to keep our residents, like you, safe and our environment, like Utah Lake, clean for everyone's enjoyment.

Thanks for being awesome neighbors and understanding as we keep things running smoothly.
