REMEMBERING OUR HEROES AND MOVING VINEYARD FORWARD RESPONSIBLY

Message from
Mayor Zack Stratton

Dear Vineyard Residents,

As summer begins to wind down, I want to update you on several important efforts underway in Vineyard, including addressing over-occupancy and parking concerns, our continued work to reduce City expenses, and a family event celebrating the beginning of a new school year.

Honoring Past and Present Heroes

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks. Although 25 years have passed, we remain committed to remembering the lives lost, honoring the courage of those who answered the call, and recognizing the heroes who continue to serve our communities and our nation.

Vineyard City will host its Honoring Past and Present Heroes event on September 11 at Vineyard Grove Park, beginning at 7:00 p.m. The evening will include a patriotic program, drone show, recognition of local heroes, emergency vehicles, food trucks, and a live performance by the Skylar Geer Band.

This gathering provides an opportunity to teach younger generations about the significance of September 11 and to thank our first responders, healthcare professionals, members of the military, veterans, dispatchers, and public servants. I hope you will join us for this meaningful evening of remembrance, gratitude, and unity.

Filling a Vacant City Council Seat

Following the resignation of Councilmember Ezra Nair, Vineyard City is accepting applications to fill the vacant seat on the City Council. We thank Ezra for his service to Vineyard and wish him the very best moving forward.

Serving on the City Council is an important opportunity to represent our residents and help shape Vineyard's future. The individual appointed to the position will begin serving on September 15, 2026, and will complete the remainder of the term through December 31, 2027.

Completed application packets and the required filing fee must be submitted no later than September 11, 2026, at 12:00 noon. I encourage residents who are passionate about public service and Vineyard's future to consider applying. Application can be found here.

Keeping Our Commitment to Neighborhood Safety

During my campaign, I promised to address illegal short-term rentals, over-occupancy, and the effects these issues have on parking and neighborhood safety. With the help of our Code Enforcement Officer, Ed Kennedy, we are making meaningful progress and keeping that commitment to Vineyard residents.

In the past week alone, the City has shut down three illegal short-term rentals. Over the past three months, more than 20 short-term rentals advertised through platforms such as Airbnb and Vrbo have been shut down. We are also working directly with Vrbo to identify and remove listings that violate Vineyard City code.

In addition to formal enforcement, we have noticed an increase in property owners voluntarily removing their listings after learning that short-term rentals are not permitted in Vineyard. Education remains an important part of our approach. Our goal is to educate property owners, answer questions, and help them come into compliance whenever possible.

Over-occupied homes can create health and safety concerns while placing additional pressure on neighborhood parking, utilities, and other public services. Many of the parking concerns reported throughout Vineyard are connected to homes with more occupants and vehicles than the property was designed to accommodate. Addressing over-occupancy is an important part of improving parking availability, maintaining access for emergency vehicles, and preserving the safety and livability of our neighborhoods.

Accessory dwelling units, commonly referred to as ADUs or basement apartments, must be properly registered with Vineyard City. Under current City requirements, an ADU is permitted only when the property is also occupied by the owner. Registration helps the City verify that applicable health, safety, parking, and occupancy requirements are being met.

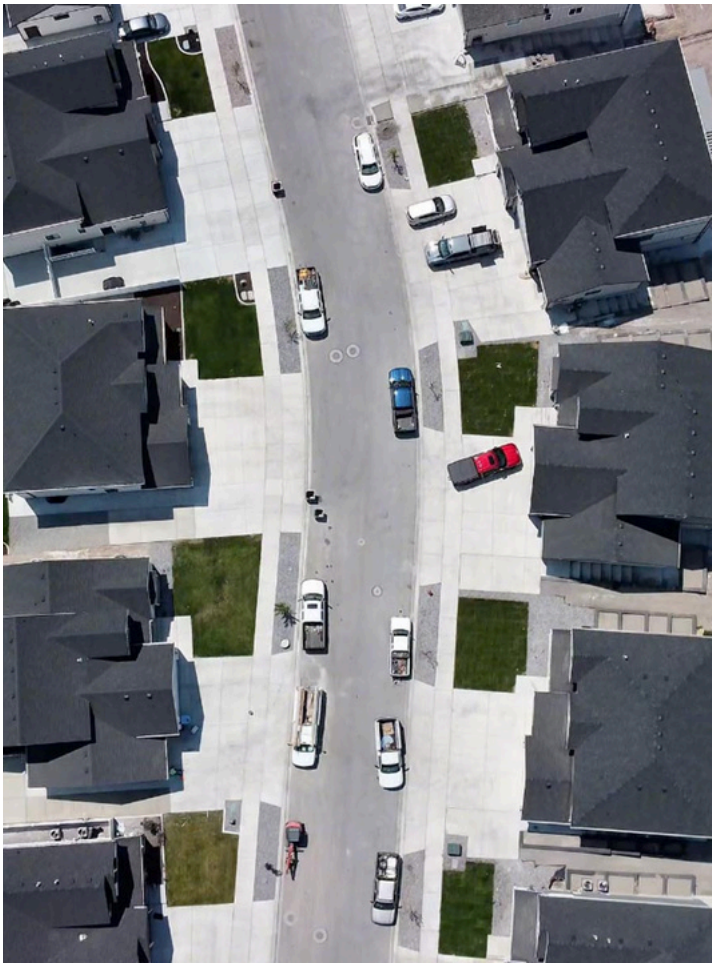
Thanks to residents who have taken the time to learn about City requirements and report concerns, we have been able to make significant progress in combating over-occupancy throughout Vineyard. These reports help us respond to parking, safety, and quality-of-life concerns that may otherwise go unnoticed. Thank you for being engaged and helping us protect our neighborhoods.

If you have questions or concerns about a short-term rental, over-occupancy, or another possible code violation involving a neighboring property, you may submit a concern through the Vineyard City website or contact Code Enforcement Officer Ed Kennedy directly at 385-307-3828. We are always available to answer questions and help where we can.



Continued Progress Across Vineyard City

I want to extend my sincere appreciation to our Vineyard City employees for their ongoing work and dedication. We are making meaningful strides in the right direction across every City department. From public safety and code enforcement to roads, parks, planning, events, communications, and resident services, our staff members are working each day to improve how the City operates and serves our community.

There is still important work ahead, but I am encouraged by the progress being made and am grateful for the employees, residents, volunteers, and community partners who continue to help make Vineyard a safe, welcoming, and wonderful place to live.

With gratitude,
Mayor Zack Stratton

HUNTSMAN CANCER INSTITUTE CELEBRATES CORNERSTONE MILESTONE IN VINEYARD

Patients, staff, community members, and local leaders recently gathered to celebrate an important milestone for Huntsman Cancer Institute's future campus in Vineyard. Attendees were invited to sign the building's cornerstones, adding their names to the story of a campus that will serve patients and families for generations to come.

Huntsman Cancer Institute broke ground on the campus last year. Since then, significant work has taken place behind the scenes and below the surface, including planning, excavation, groundwater removal, and the installation of 830 deep foundation supports. With that work complete, vertical construction is now beginning.

The future campus will bring lifesaving cancer care closer to residents of Utah County and surrounding communities. In 2025 alone, patients from these areas made more than 52,000 visits to Huntsman Cancer Institute in Salt Lake City, traveling approximately 3.9 million miles to receive care.

Vineyard City is grateful to the patients, families, healthcare professionals, donors, public leaders, construction partners, and community members helping bring this vision to life. The new campus is expected to welcome its first patients in September 2028.

A NEW CHAPTER FOR THE VINEYARD LIBRARY

By Councilmember
Parker McCumber

A quick update on the Vineyard Library and the decision to end the Orem Library reimbursement.

I have received numerous complaints about that, but they all include some line to the effect of:

“I would use the Vineyard Library if it had more books and more space.”

I actually think that gets directly to the heart of why I supported ending the Orem reimbursement.

For years, Vineyard has been spending a significant chunk of it's library budget subsidizing access to another city’s library. The problem is that subsidizing the alternative is also a detriment to growing our own library. The very reason it doesn't have more books and space.

If residents have subsidized access to a larger library in Orem, there is naturally less demand and less incentive to expand the service here at home. At the same time, we are directing public resources and Vineyard tax dollars toward an outside option instead of building momentum around our own library. Vineyard tax dollars should stay in Vineyard.

If the criticism is that Vineyard needs more physical books, more space, and more programming, then I think our policy should be pointed toward building exactly that.

And our library already offers quite a bit that many residents may not realize is available.

Vineyard Library provides access to Libby for eBooks and audiobooks, Utah’s Online Public Library, Creativebug, LearningExpress, and interlibrary loan for physical books we do not currently have on our shelves.

The Library also offers Storytimes, Bingo, Yoga, Science Club, Coding & Robotics Club, Puzzle Exchange, Adult and Teen Book Clubs, with additional art, game, and trivia programs being added.

This month, the Library is also adding three StoryWalks, Yoto players and audio cards, themed circulating activity backpacks, and more than 130 graphic novels through an ARCH grant. The Library also recently secured a CLEF grant to continue expanding its offerings.

The biggest constraint now is increasingly space.

I have asked staff to start exploring transitional options for a larger library. That could include leasing affordable vacant commercial space, working with Utah City or another partner on subsidized space, using a temporary modular facility, or finding another creative and cost-effective solution that gives us room to expand the physical collection and programming while we work toward a permanent home. The budget freed up by ending that reimbursement directly supports this.

We could continue spending taxpayer dollars subsidizing access to another city, or we could create the demand, incentive, and momentum necessary to build a better library here in Vineyard.

I favor building ours, for our residents.

If residents are telling us, “Give us more books and more space and we’ll use it,” then I think we should listen and be working toward exactly that.

NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT

Ed Kennedy is Vineyard's Neighborhood Improvement Officer. He helps address neighborhood and parking concerns and connects residents with the appropriate City departments to keep Vineyard looking its best and running smoothly.

If you notice a streetlight outage, pothole, signage issue, property concern, or other issue that needs attention, submit an anonymous 'Report a Concern' through vineyardutah.gov.

Short-term rentals, including those advertised through Airbnb, Vrbo, and other vacation-rental platforms, are not permitted within Vineyard City. This includes renting an entire home, basement apartment, or individual room for short-term stays.

Vineyard City is making meaningful progress in addressing illegal short-term rentals. More than 20 have been shut down over the past three months, including three in one recent week. The City is also working directly with Vrbo to remove listings that do not comply with City requirements. Education remains an important part of this effort, and many property owners have voluntarily removed their listings after learning about the regulations.

Residents are valuable partners in helping the City identify and address potential concerns, and we appreciate everyone who has taken the time to share information with us. If you believe a property may be operating as an illegal short-term rental, please let us know.

Click any of these icons to contact Vineyard City Code Enforcement.

If you have questions about City code requirements or would like to report a potential code violation, please email, text, or call Vineyard City's Code Enforcement Officer, Ed Kennedy, at edk@vineyardutah.gov or 385-307-3828. Our goal is to work with residents to improve safety, provide information, and strengthen neighborhoods through education and cooperation whenever possible.

HOME PROJECTS AND PERMITS: WHAT RESIDENTS SHOULD KNOW

VINEYARD CITY BUILDING & PLANNING

PERMIT SAFETY TIPS
From Your Building Inspector

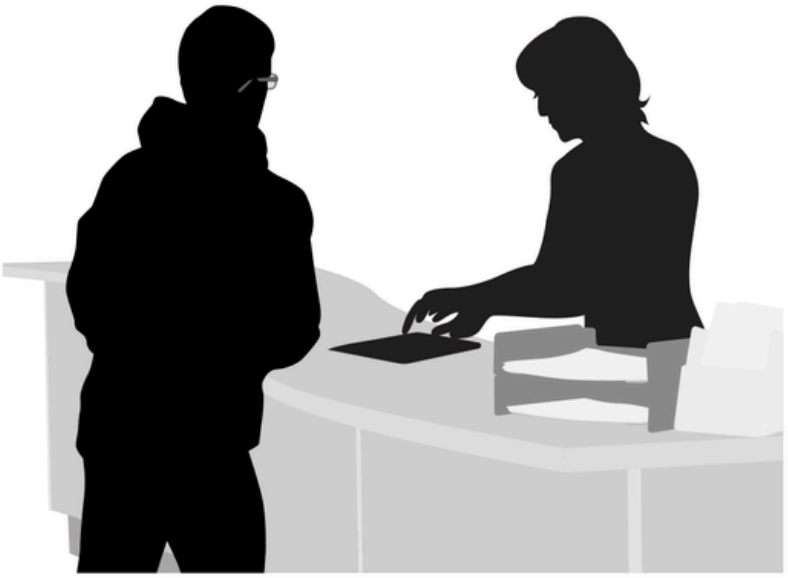
BUILDING SAFETY MONTH

Do I Need a Permit for My Home Project?

Check with your local building safety department before beginning home improvement projects. Requirements vary, but many building safety departments require permits for home improvement projects, including electrical, mechanical, structural or plumbing work. As a result of getting a permit, an inspector will check the work. Inspections provide a measure of safety to protect your life and property.

Projects That Usually Require Permits

- Re-roofing
- Installing electrical outlets
- Window frame modifications
- Remodeling kitchens or bathrooms
- Installing a pool, spa or hot tub
- Building an addition, including seasonal rooms
- Installing equipment and replacements such as furnaces, water heaters, fireplaces and space heaters
- Building a tall fence and decks



If you are planning to make home improvements, contact your local building safety department to find out what building safety code provisions apply in your area and if you need a permit.

BACK TO SCHOOL WATER PARTY

COMMUNITY HIGHLIGHT

On August 6, Vineyard families gathered at Vineyard Grove Park for one final afternoon of summer fun before heading back to school. The event gave children a chance to cool off, spend time with friends, and enjoy the last days of summer vacation together.

The park was filled with activities for the entire family, including a 32-foot slip and slide, 1,000 water balloons, water games, music, and free ice cream. There were plenty of ways for everyone to get involved, have fun, and stay cool throughout the afternoon.

Attendees also had the opportunity to paint a Tesla, enjoy the excitement of the candy cannon, and take their best shot at the popular Dunk a Deputy activity. These unique activities brought plenty of energy, laughter, and memorable moments to the celebration.

The Back-to-School Water Party was a wonderful opportunity for neighbors to connect and families to spend time together before returning to their school-year schedules. We loved seeing Vineyard Grove Park filled with smiling faces and community spirit.

Thank you to everyone who attended and to those who helped make this celebration possible. We wish all Vineyard students, teachers, school employees, and families a safe, successful, and exciting school year!
